ANOTHER TUMBLE IN CORN.

BOTTOM SEEMS TO BE OUT OF THE COARSE GRAINS MARKET.

More Weakness Than at Any Time Since the Recent Decline Began-May Wheat Gains on December-Provisions.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—The most notable change in the wheat market today was an advance of 15c per bushel in May, while De-cember declined 15c. That represents the style of the day's operations of the bull clique. They appeared to be sellers of December every time it got up to 914c, and ouyers of May on all weak spots. At the close. May was only 1%c below December. was heavy, under continued liquidation by small holders, and closed 1/2%c lower. Oats declined %c. Provisions were weak, under renewed yellow fever reports, and declined Liverpool sent very discouraging quotations at the opening of the wheat market here, more especially for spot wheat. California was reported ½d per cental lower; red winter, ½d lower, and No. 1 Northern spring, 2d lower. Futures were less radically weak, showing only %47½d decline. A private cablegram said the market at Liverpool was decreased by accessive supplies erpool was depressed by excessive supplie and lack of demand. This weaknes abroa was sufficient to cause an easy feeling at the opening. December starting at 50% of 10% as compared with yesterday's closing price of 91% 91%. "I notice a tendency to sell December wheat in this market rather than May on account of the premium for the former. The risk looks to me out of proportion to the possible profits for the following reasons:

The risk looks to me out of proportion to the possible profits for the following reasons:

"The stocks in sight are abnormally small for the time of year, notwithstanding free deliveries from first hands.

"With reserves at least 50,000,000 greater than at beginning of this crop year, the demand in '96 reduced the visible to about 15,000,000 and left reserves the smallest per capita in many years.

"The foreign demand will be greater this year than last, beyond question.

"The results of the threshing in the Northwest are even more disappointing than expected, and the quality bad—much being unfit for flour.

"Minneapolis will need all the wheat tributary to her market, and practically none will come here.

"Some estimates are as low as 110,000,000 of milling wheat for the three states."

Kansas Wheat Prospects Good

Kansas Wheat Prospects Good.

Atchison, Kas., Oct. 19.—F. M. Baker, Atchison's grain authority, says that in the wheat belt of Kansas there has not been a better prospect since 1852, when there was a record breaking crop. During the past two or three days heavy rains have fallen in Western and Central Kansas, ranging from two to seven inches. In some sections of the wheat belt rain fell for forty-eight hours. In addition to this favorable circumstance there is one-third more wheat acreage in Kansas this year than ever before in its history, in the opinion of Mr. Baker.

New York, Oct. 19.—The undertone of today's market was one of strength throughout. The volume of transactions was not large and there were prolonged periods of dullness, when trading was practically stagnant, but the operations of important interests, which were prominent in the late bull market, were manifest. The tone of yesterday's market had apparently determined large professional operators to undertake a movement for a rise to-day. The break in the price of Pullman, due to the news of the death of the head of the company, halted the operations of this element for a time, but the firmness of the general list, in face of the break in Pullman and of marked weaknes in Chicago Gas and the strong support which was offered the Pullman stock, encouraged the buil operators to renew their campaign in an aggressive way later in the afternoon. The result was that the shorts were driven to cover and prices throughout the list mounted strongly upward to a point materially above last night's close. The bears had made the most of the sympathetic effect produced by the opening weakness in Pullman, but the modernte decline effected in the general list falled to bring any heavy liquidation or to dislodge any great amount of stop loss orders. The manifest firmness of prices discouraged them and their rush to cover at the close was precipitate. London continued to be a good buyer in the New York market, and in fact offered the principal support during the early trading. The exchange market showed a distinctively firmer tendency, though the only announcement of gold from Europe was of the withdrawal for shipment to the United States of £25,000 in gold from the Bank of Eng-New York, Oct. 19.-The undertone of toment of gold from Europe was of the with-drawal for shipment to the United States of £35,000 in gold from the Bank of Eng-land. Gold, however, is in transit from Australia to San Francisco. The local money market continued easy and outside banks continued to take a large amount of commercial paper in this market.

A GREEK PRIEST'S HOME. His Little Flock and His Family Sleep Together Upon the

Floor. I crossed the snowy and crumbling mountain which still bears the old Greek name of the Drum, and so entered a region where the water flows by long courses into the Gulf of Corinth, instead of to Tempe. That night I spent on a mud floor in fine Chaucerian chaos with a priest and his numerous household of human beings and live stock, all gathered round an open hearth, from which the smoke blew in clouds about the blackened room till it escaped by the windows and other suitable holes. Long after I had crept under my rug in the place of honor furthest from the pet goat, the shaggy man, with the zeal of a university extension lecturer, kept bringing in members of his flock to stare at this object lesson in anthropology, and I felt with joy that, like a lantern slide, I was at last diffusing culture. At midnight he went cut to gabble a service in his dejected little church, where the deep carving had been mutilated, and the calm faces of stiff Byzantine saints had been slashed and scored by Turkish knives in long-forgotten slaughters. cerian chaos with a priest and his numer been mutilated, and the calm faces of stiff Byzantine saints had been slashed and scored by Turkish knives in long-forgotten slaughters.

Next morning I left him heaping a manure cart, and but for his tall hat and plaited hair he would have been indistinguishable from the souls of whom he had the cure. Meantime, his daughters, barefooted and unwashed, splashed about in the liquid mud, driving the goats to the mountains with stones and barbaric cries. They were indeed finely barbaric themselves, for in Pindus it is not thought worth while to send girls to school, and a man will tell you he has three sons and three "unregistered," and by the unregistered he means his daughters.

Amused at the contrast of such a life with the life of an English priest, with his faultless clothes, clean sheets, numerous bedrooms, charming wife and children, lawn tennis courts, humble but presentable vehicles, and quiet library, where hardly a blue bottle dares to hum, and wondering what might be the loss and gain of those different corditions, I scrambled down a rocky path and over a narrow bridge, which with a single span leaps high above the young Achelous at the mouth of an unimaginable gorge, and as I climbed the opposite mountain I saw a man hastening down the path, and knew at once that, like the messenger in some old play, he bore the tidings of fate. His message, for a Greek, was brief: "I was in Arta on Sunday," he said. "The war began in the afternoon. The Turks tried to cross the river by tying Christian women in front of them. In hopes the Greeks would not fire. All were killed. Their shrieks were frightful. The town lies flat in ruins. To go on is death."

Brings Dreams of Bliss.

In Southern Arizona the jail and prison officials have their hands full in trying to prevent the smuggling into their institutions of the seductive mariguana. This is a lind of "loco" weed, more powerful than oplum. It grows from seed by cultivation, in Southern Arizona and Mexico. It is a dangerous thing for the uninitiated to handle, but those who know its uses say it produces more ravishing dreams than oplum. The Mexicans mix it with tobacco and smoke it in cigarettes, inhaling the smoke. General Shriver, of the prison force at Yuma, has just unearthed a large quantity of the weed that had been cached within reach of the convicts who work in the outside gangs. Brings Dreams of Bliss.

AMERICAN DRESSED BEEF HAS IN-VADED MARKET OF SCOTLAND.

lost Extensive Grazing Section of the United Kingdom Meets at Home Keen Competition With Western Products.

Scotland, the home of the best beef cattle in Europe, and the most extensive grazing and feeding grounds of the United Kingdom, has been successfully invaded by our Western dressed beef men, who are build-ing up quite a 'rade there. The Edinburgh Evening Dispatch says:
"The public have now got to know pretty

"The public have now got to know pretty well that the butchers' boycott has been organized and engineered by a clique of very extensive fleshers in Glasgow, who deal almost exclusively in foreign meat. It is an open secret that one of the Glasgow firms most prominently identified with the boycott paid in 1895 to one salesman alone, namely, Mr. T. C. Nelson, the sum of £2:,000 for American and Canadian stock fanded at Yorkhill. Mr. Roderick Scott, the general of the boycotting army, advertises himself as 'principal agent for Swift's prime American chilled meat.' Probably enough, there are very few persons outside the 'trade' who know that Mr. Roderick Scott has a branch establishment in Fountain-brige, Edingurgh, where he conducts an extrade' who know that Mr. Roderick Scott has a branch establishment in Fountainbrige, Edingurgh, where he conducts an extensive business in the sale of 'Swift's prime American chilled meat.' The name on the sign of this establishment is 'Swift's Beef Co., Limited, Roderick Scott, sole agent for Scotland.' Almost close beside Mr. Roderick Scott's shop is the establishment of the Morris company, a rival firm, who also conduct a large business in the sale of foreign meat, which, so far as is known, they obtain direct from America. Some of the Edinburgh fieshers also import into Edinburgh large quantities of American meat from Birkenhead. Sometimes as much as fifteen tons of American meat come by one single railway at one time to a single butcher."

"Allen county, Kas., has seen some dry times before." said M. W. Ott yesterday, who is just back from a visit to his farm in that county, "but nothing like the present has been known there for twenty years. Nearly every one is hauling stock water. A number of deep wells have been bored, which is relieving the situation some, as an abundance of water is being struck. The want of water is keeping farmers from stocking up their feeding cattle. There is an abundance of roughness on hand and a fair corn crop was raised. Corn selling at 25 cents."

"The Osage country is all right," said W. F. Smith, one of the big land and cattle owners of that country, yesterday, as he sat in the office of the George R. Barsa Live Stock Commission Company, and respended to inquiries of The Journal man. "We have had some rains lately and farmers have gotten along pretty well," says he, "with their wheat sowing and the usual acreage has been planted. We have as many cattle in our country as a year ago and a good many will be roughed through. Range good and cattle doing well. Corn turned out very well and new corn is worth about 18 to 20 cents."

tie.

Wear & Minor, Beverly Bros. & Johnsen, J. T. Holland and H. T. Cornelius, Amarillo, Tex., had in cattle yesterday.

Whitmer & Cummings, Nortonville, Kas., had in fifty-seven nice Oklahoma steers yesterday that averaged 1,419 pounds and sold at $4.85.

D. E. Breen, Skiddy, Kas., was in yesterday with cattle. He says there are more cattle in Morris county than last year and hogs an average. Good rains have encouraged stockmen very much. Corn crop very good and new corn worth about 18c. very good and new corn worth about 18c.
W. A. Pierce, Maple Hill, Kas., was here yesterday with cattle. It is awful dry in Wabaunsee county, he says, and everyone is praying for rain. There are lots of cattle on hand and stock water is getting scarce. Not so many hogs in farmers hands as last year. Corn will make half a crop and is selling at 25c.
